Training and Performance Solutions

Using an unlimited pool of translators Documentation Specialists International, Inc. (DSI) can provide your materials in any language or transfer any language (in voice-over or subtitling) to CD or video.

Marketing	Literature	Law
Medicine	Patents	Engineering
Copyrights	Education	Training
Technical	Industrial	Manufacturing

Accuracy, reliability, and consistency are the measurements of quality translations. Through a double editing process and the use of sophisticated software, we ensure that all these points are achieved to the highest standards in the shortest amount of time.

Our proven talent pool ensures that not only are words translated, but also that ideas and concepts are conveyed clearly and appropriately. DSI works closely with you to identify your objective and the best way to achieve it. We will provide a complete statement of work, mutually acceptable schedules, terms and conditions, and cost estimates for your project.

DSI offers complete finished product capability. We can format text into camera ready copy using a variety of desktop publishing software including scanning of diagrams, finished photographs, art and full copy/print services. DSI's competitive strength shows in our proven ability to execute projects on time and within budget. We continually critique our own work, evaluate our procedures, and upgrade our performance standards.

We are pleased to offer you our services, and we are always happy to answer any questions you might have about your needs or our services. We work hard to get business. We work harder to keep it.
